Sir,

With reference to your bid submitted through the e-procurement portal for the above-mentioned work and the shortfall documents uploaded by you in response to the clarifications sought, the following deficiencies have been observed:

1. Non-compliance with requirement of Office in Kerala State:

As per the tender conditions, the bidder must possess an office in any district of Kerala State (where the Central Warehouse i.e. site of work is located) as on the last date of tender submission. For this purpose, a valid GST registration for Kerala State along with rent agreement/property ownership documents establishing possession of the office on or before the date of tender submission is mandatory. The rent agreement submitted by you is executed on 05.12.2025, which is subsequent to the date of tender submission. Hence, the submitted documents do not establish possession of office in Kerala State as on the last date of tender submission. Your bid therefore fails to meet this mandatory eligibility criterion.

2. Invalid Affidavit for Sole Proprietorship: The affidavit submitted in support of sole proprietorship indicates the date of execution/sworn as 06.12.2025, whereas the same is notarized on 24.11.2025. This inconsistency in dates renders the affidavit invalid and unacceptable. In view of the above non-compliances with the mandatory provisions of the tender document, your technical bid is rejected and you are declared technically disqualified. This issues with the approval of the competent authority.

RAJKUMAR
